

Grace Globetrotter

555 MAIN ST ANYTOWN, OREGON USA
PHONE +1.555.1212 • E-MAIL MYACCOUNT@MYISP.COM

Fall term internship in the field of environmental biology and ecology in Mexico.

- Advanced level of Spanish (written and spoken)
- Experience working with diverse teams in both research and field environments
- Excellent interpersonal and cross-cultural communication skills
- Hard-working and dedicated

Cornwallis, Oregon, USA

Sept.2001 – present

- Senior Biology major, Chemistry minor, expected graduation: May 2005
- International degree thesis topic: Medicinal use of plants in the Ecuadorian highlands
- Grade Point Average: 3.55 on a scale of 4.00

- Relevant Coursework: General Biology I; Principles of Biology II; Environmental Chemistry; International Environmental Issues; Environmental Issues: Silver Valley; Evolution; Biochemistry I; Conservation Field Practicum; Spanish 412; Current events in Latin America

Quito, Ecuador

Aug. 2003 – Jan. 2004

- Spanish language course at the 400 level (nivel avanzado)
- Service learning course working with public health issues in villages near Quito

Cornwallis, Oregon, USA

Sept.2003 – present

Undergraduate Research Assistant – Medicinal Uses of Local Plants

- Extracted and analyzed chemical compounds from indigenous plants

Cornwallis, Oregon, USA

June 2003 – Sept. 2003

Volunteer Coordinator

- Coordinated volunteer efforts for tree planting and habitat restoration in Benton County

Cornwallis, Oregon, USA

Sept. 2002 – June 2003

Lab Assistant

- Cared for laboratory plants and entered data

- Excellent PC skills using Word, Excel, Access, SPSS and Power Point
- Proficient with techniques required to research, analyze, and synthesize a large body of information and clearly present it in both a written and oral format

- Experience working with indigenous cultures and understanding the importance of respecting the environment
- Advanced communication skills (spoken and written)

- Sports: Ultimate Frisbee, swimming, hiking, tennis
- International Travel: Ecuador, Costa Rica and Mexico